Mrs. Atlee Pomerene.

Washington, D. C., May 25.—One of the most charming women at the national capital is Mrs. Atlee Pomerene, wife of the Ohio senator. She has a host of friends and one of them has recently written an appreciation of her.

"She is a woman whom you immediately select in a large group or gathering as the one you would chiefly like to begin to know," writes this friend. "This instant appreciation and admiration which she unconsciously calls forth may be due to a number of things that we will proceed to mention. These first must be surface things, mind, because you are attracted before you have any opportunity to know what her real character is like. As you do know her, you will find there is even more than you thought—Mrs. Pomerene does not disappoint you in your ideals for a senator's wife."

"In the first place she is tall and possessed of a singular, well-poised grace that holds your eyes with pleasure immediately. Then she dresses in exquisite taste—wearing the most delightfully feminine gowns and hats—

we rather like hats that have soft bunches of plumes and droopy, artistic lines, and our esthetic sensibilities could not but be pleased with Mrs. Pomerene's. A soft, shimmering grey dress—we spell grey with an "e" in preference to "a" here because we think it gives a better description—a cooler, less flat color some way with less pink in it—that trained just a little with the tiniest imaginable switch, a hat such as we have hinted at, with a—we hesitate even though we are a woman—a man would say pink or red feather at once and be done with it, but you know there is the greatest difference between coral and cerise, rose and American Beauty, crimson and scarlet, and all the other variations of those two.

"Anyway the color of the plumes was in the general direction we have indicated and gave just the right living touch to the grey costume. Every one who has come in contact with Mrs. Pomerene likes her—she is a woman without an enemy and with very many warm, positive and devoted friends."

we standardize our dress along the lines of appropriateness, comfort, simplicity and health, in order to set the proper example in this matter."

Some of the things condemned by the association, as evils which have fastened on Cincinnati girls and women to an alarming extent, are: High heels, low-necked waists for street wear, sleeves above the elbows, paint and other cosmetics, veiling and gauze hose for street wear.

THE BEST COOKS PREFER
Blue Ribbon Vanilla and Lemon Extracts, because of their absolute purity, great strength and delicious flavor. Only one teaspoonful to the quart is required. "Best and takes less."

"Who gets the custody of the automobile?" "I told my wife she might have it. I can't keep up a machine and pay alimony, too."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Escapes An Awful Fate.

A thousand tongues could not express the gratitude of Mrs. J. E. Cox, of Joliet, Ill., for her wonderful deliverance from an awful fate. "Typhoid pneumonia had left me with a dreadful cough," she writes. "Sometimes I had such awful coughing spells I thought I would die. I could get no help from doctor's treatment or other medicines till I used Dr. King's New Discovery. But I owe my life to this wonderful remedy for I scarcely cough at all now." Quick and safe, it's the most reliable of all throat and lung medicines. Every bottle guaranteed, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at W. A. D'Alemberte's.

Special to The Journal. Cincinnati, O., May 25.—With the example and influence of sixty socially prominent women to blaze the way, Cincinnati is about to start a woman's dress reform movement.

At a meeting of the Home Economics Association the startling fact was disclosed that high school girls are painting their faces, using cosmetics and dressing "as if for a party instead of the school room."

"Everything to Wear"

GOD HATES A LIAR

So great has been the work of the Health Teacher and so remarkable are the results obtained from the use of the wonderful Quaker Herb Extract and Oil of Balm, that many people actually doubt the genuineness of the testimonials published and other people of jealous and malicious disposition even go so far as to say that these testimonials are mere fabrications. To convince and to satisfy such people the Health Teacher offered the following for publication last evening. He says: "All testimonials published by me may be investigated by mail, phone, or wire, and I will give one hundred dollars to any local charitable institution if it can be proven that any testimonial is fictitious or untrue."

Quite a number of local people who have used Quaker Herb Extract have been saved from horrible deaths by expelling immense parasites. These tape worms can be seen at the drug store at any time, and all are invited to call and see them. They will be only pleased to answer all questions regarding these life-destroyers. He will do more than that, he actually denies any person who may be afflicted with a tape worm to call at the drug store, will prove that Quaker Herb Extract will expel all worms quickly and surely and completely, without danger, dieting, starving or any ill after effects. No charges will be made for the remedies unless the worm is expelled. Now isn't this fair and honest? Could you possibly ask for or conceive a more generous proposition? People who suffer from rheumatism, catarrh, kidney, liver, stomach or blood troubles, indigestion, biliousness, nervousness, run-down man or woman, should also realize there is a cure for them in the Quaker Herb Remedies. Here are a few testimonials he wishes you to investigate thoroughly:

Mrs. M. J. Touart, who resides at No. 523 E. Intendencia street, suffered for years with her stomach, would bloat, heart flutter and jump, shortness of breath, dizziness, sometimes pain in the back of head, sharp shooting pains in lower bowels down into limbs gradually growing weaker, but most of the time had a ravenous appetite, sometimes the sight of food would make her sick. After taking Quaker Herb Extract only six days expelled a monster life-sapping tape worm, head and all complete, 39 feet in length. This worm along with many others can be seen at the drug store. Ask this lady if this is true or not. Another report. Mr. George Crause, proprietor of a grocery store, corner F and LaRue streets, stomach trouble, indigestion, generally run-down, very despondent, he procured a treatment of Quaker Herb Extract and after three or four days feels like a new man.

Mr. Harry Nork, of No. 712 Romana street, had kidney trouble and rheumatism for years. He would have to get up at night from two to five times. His lower limbs were very stiff and sore; his knees ached and would cause him so much pain that he would have to lose much time from his work. He called at Balkcom's drug store and got a treatment of Quaker Herb Extract and Oil of Balm. After using them two weeks he feels wonderfully improved and says Quaker has done him more good than all the remedies or treatments he has ever used. Now, my friends, the Health Teacher has hundreds of other testimonials he could give you, but space will not permit it. They are the names and addresses of your neighbors and friends. Call at Balkcom's Drug Store, 17 S. Palafox St.

THE WALTON HIGH SCHOOL EXERCISES

DeFuniak Springs, Fla., May 25.—On Friday, May 17th, were held the commencement exercises of the Walton High School. The graduates were Misses Ada Faircloth, Christian McDonald and Winnie Warren. Also upon the same occasion the declamation medal was awarded Miss Rae Ackley, who delivered in a splendid way "Prisoner of Chillon." A chorus of ten girls sang several songs. The address of the evening was delivered by Prof. Marienburger, of the Woman's College, of Tallahassee. His subject was, "Individuality and Education," which he treated in a masterly manner. Mr. H. J. Rogers, principal of the school, has made this term one of the most successful in its history. The baccalaureate sermon for Palmer College was delivered Sunday morning at the Methodist church by Dr. Moffat of Pensacola. The choir, under the direction of Miss Jordan, sang two beautiful anthems. Sunday night a sacred concert was given in the Presbyterian church. On Monday night one of the most delightful concerts ever presented here upon a similar occasion was given by the music pupils under the direction of Miss Jordan, the musical director.

In the parlors of the girl's dormitory was held the president's reception on Tuesday night. The play, "Farm Folks," presented by the senior class on Wednesday night, was a great success. The graduating exercises proper were held in the auditorium Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The address, replete with eloquence and instruction, was delivered by Dr. McGee, of the Alabama conference.

Dr. Walker, president of Palmer College, has secured the services of Dr. Wm. M. Kemper, of Virginia, as principal of that institution for the ensuing year, to take the place of the efficient principal, Mr. Otto Fisher, who has recently resigned. Dr. Fisher is very enthusiastic over the future success of this institution of which he is head and who has been instrumental in making this year the most successful one in the history of Palmer College.

Rub-My-Tiam will cure you.
